Langjökull Ice Cave - Hraunfossar - Þingvellir

INTO THE CLACIER, Europe's largest man-made ice tunnel and caves, opened June 1 2015.

The ice cave is set high on second largest ice cap in Iceland, Langjökull, stretching 200 meters into solid glacier ice 30 meters below the surface. Tour into the glacier will offer visitors a once in a lifetime experience, where they get to explore around and within the mighty Langjökull.

Guided tour from Reykjavík at 07:40

- 1) Langjökull (Ice cap glacier)
- 2) Husafell (Lunch stop)
- 3) Hraunfossar, Lava Falls, lava field waterfall (Spectacular waterfalls)
- 4) Deildartunguhver, a thermal spring in Reykholtsdalur Valley. The highest-flow hot spring in Europe. It provides 180 liters per second of 100°C hot water
- 5) Þingvellir National Park, tectonic plate boundaries of the Mid-Atlantic Ridge
- 6) Reykjavík

Visitors are invited to embark on a weather dependent adventure into the great wilderness of Iceland. Visitors will travel up the glacier to the ice caves and tunnel in massive purpose built 8 wheel drive super trucks.

With crevasses stretching deep into the glacier there are five grand ice chambers and incredible lighting to guide you through this sub-glacial journey. Our tours are perfectly suited for those looking to discover something truly amazing and unique.

Visitors will be able to learn about glaciology in a completely new hands on way, through a firsthand insight into the fascinating concept of glaciers, how they form and the thought provoking effects of global warming.
